A Republican leader struck a 1956 "running scared" keynote Saturday in announcing details for a national strategy conference in Washington Monday and Tuesday.

National Chairman Leonard W. Hall sounded the call against a complacent campaign in a statement saying:

"We face a tough battle in November and we know it. We not only want to re-elect the President by an overwhelming vote of confidence, but we want to give him a Republican House and Senate to help carry forward his great program of peace, progress and prosperity."

Rep. Charles A. Halleck, Indiana Republican, Saturday accused Democrats of "striving for partisan advantage, maneuvering for a presidential veto rather than for a good farm bill".

The Soviet Union's anti-Stalin campaign may be a deception, says Allen W. Dulles, head of the U. S. Central Intelligence Agency.

"A dead and dishonored Stalin is likely to be merely a device—possibly a Trojan corpse rather than a Trojan horse—with which the Russian people are, I fear, to be deceived in their expectation of a freer and better life," he says.

When Miami Beach, Fla., officials heard the world's first atomic-powered submarine, the Nautilus, was going to dock there Saturday, they rounded up film star Constance Bennett and some congressmen for an impressive greeting.

But the Nautilus found the Miami Beach dock didn't have enough water to float its 3000 tons, so it tied up at Miami.

Due to the snafu, Constance and congressmen missed the boat.

Constance wandered off to the beach. The congressmen went to a hotel. The congressmen's wives were given a tour of the sub as a consolation. No one else was allowed aboard.

President Eisenhower Saturday appointed Edward Rickenbacker, board chairman of Eastern Air Lines, to be a member of the National Advisory Committee on Aeronautics.

The World War 1 flying ace was named to serve the remainder of a term expiring Dec. 1, 1958. He succeeds Ralph Damon, deceased.

Hotelman Conrad Hilton, who will represent President Eisenhower at the Grace Kelly-Prince Rainier wedding, flew into Paris Saturday with his missing passport in hand.

Hilton drove to Idlewild Airport in New York Friday and discovered he had left his passport at a hotel.

"I ordered a special to drive the passport out, but before it arrived our plane had taken off," he said.

The passport was put on the next plane, Hilton's plane was held up at Newfoundland because of weather and the second plane with the passport caught up.
